BRISTOL TOWNSHIP SCHOOLS NEED 18 MORE ELEMENTARY CLASS ROOMS NOW, ACCORDING TO A RECENT SURVEY; TEN ADDITIONAL ONES WILL BE NEEDED IN SIX YEARS

Dr. Charles H. Boehm Compliments Board Upon Condition of School System

DISTRICT IS GROWING

One Teacher Submits Resignation Effective at End of Year

Dr. Charles H. Boehm, Bucks county superintendent of schools, attended the Bristol Township school board meeting held last evening in the junior high school on Rogers road. Dr. Boehm discussed the future needs in the township school district. William Clifton, president of the board, presided.

Dr. Boehm told the board: "The survey taken by Henry Decker was a very good one, as Bristol Township is a hard one in which to make any kind of a true survey. But the figures Decker has given as to the number of children that can be expected to attend the township schools in the next six years, means that 18 class rooms of the elementary grades are needed now. In six years you will need 28 elementary class rooms, according to the figures of the survey.

"This is not over-expanding, as the figures are low, as more and more houses are going up in the township all the time, and this survey was made on the houses with children in them now. The pace of increased enrollment in schools is dropping, according to national figures, except they do not hold true for Bristol Township or Bucks County at all, as the county is still on the increase, and from surveys made, will be for some time. I don't want to tell you a figure of more than what you will need in class rooms, as there is a big need of more class rooms in the township. I am sure that whatever you build here in the township will be more than the need.

"The largest area of increase of future school children is in the Maple Shade section, according to the survey, so that is where the greatest need is for the building program to start. The way it is figured, you will need twice the number of class rooms you now have, in the next six years. Right now you could use at least nine more rooms in the Maple Shade school. So I would say the first areas for construction should be in the Maple Shade area, Croydon, and in the Laurel Bend sections.

"This year is the best ever for the township schools," Dr. Boehm declared. "The teaching is much better and the schools are improving a great deal. A wonderful job is being done here in Bristol township. You have a big problem here with the increase of children in the area of the school system. Your building plans must go ahead to be able to take care of all the children. The picture I have given you here to-

FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1950

NO LATIN COURTESY

It would, of course, be silly to get worked up over the slight offered to the United States in Guatemala, when a military band played a dance tune instead of the "Star Spangled Banner" to greet the Puerto Rican team at the Central American "Olympic games." The incident was trivial and petty, and the "mistake" was corrected the following day. But Latins have more reason to dislike the United States than we are inclined to assume.

Newspaper comment there explained that Puerto Rico is not part of the United States, but a colony. Guatemala is strongly anti-colonial, and has taken the lead at inter-American conferences in demanding freedom for British and other European colonies in this hemisphere. Her present leftist government is strongly anti-United States and somewhat pro-Russian.

There are many haters of the United States in Latin America, however flimsy their reasons. The bad neighbor policy of Roosevelt I and Wilson, under which American Marines were sent to occupy Latin nations for years on end and flout Wilson's own Fourteen Points, left a hatred of "Wall Street" and "Yanqui imperialism," which propagandists can still exploit. The bad manners of United States tourists and business representatives, who refused to take flowery Latin modes of address seriously or to try to speak Spanish decently, are also resented.

All that goes without saying, though the Good Neighbor policy has done wonders in the direction of replacing hatred by good will. There is plenty of latent anti-United States feeling which a regime as hostile to us as the one now in Guatemala City can easily arouse. What is harder to understand in the present incident is the typical bad manners displayed.

WHODUNITS FOR PEACE

Many males enjoy reading murder mysteries. Some high-brows sneer at them. Most wives feel they are a waste of time. But now comes Bertrand Russell, whose brow is of the highest, to put in a good word for this popular form of indulgence. Maybe if enough people were to read whodunits, he thinks, world peace might be possible.

"Anyone who hopes that in time it may be possible to abolish war should give serious thought to the problem of satisfying harmlessly the instincts that we inherit from long generations of savages. For my part I find a sufficient outlet in detective stories, where I alternately identify myself with the murderer and the huntsman-detective."

The British philosopher has a point. Did Hitler read whodunits? Does Stalin? Has any faithful reader of whodunits ever started an aggressive war? And if whodunit readers aren't much help with the dishes, do they ever beat their wives?

Whodunit fans always knew there was a good reason why they should read whodunits, if they could only think of it.

night is the minimum requirements that will be needed in the Bristol township school system in the next six years.

In closing, Dr. Boehm said: "You should pick your sites now for your future buildings, as the way this area is growing it will not be much longer before there will not be much place to put new schools. Maple Shade is where you must consider first and you should be looking around for a good site now. What I have given you here tonight is the present picture of what is needed in the township now. You have done a lot in the past, but you still have plenty to do."

Joseph Wilmore, school architect, reported progress on the building program now being completed in the township. He stated that most of the work on the different schools has been completed.

John Ailmen reported that space has been allotted and hangers provided for the lunches and clothing of the children in the Edgely school, and the teachers are doing a very good job there.

Mrs. Myrna H. McKee submitted her letter of resignation to take effect at the end of the school year. She stated that she expects to move to the western part of the state, so would not be able to teach here next year. Mrs. McKee teaches in the Edgely school.

Walter Miller, superintendent of township schools, asked to have a member of the faculty attend the football coaches clinic to be held in Coatesville, March 13 to 16. Also the teacher of home economics would like to attend the meeting of the Future Home Makers of America, which will be held in Wilkes-Barre. She would like two girls from the home economics class to attend this meeting with her. She believes that it will do a lot of good for the class to attend this meeting. The school board granted the requests and authorized the teacher to have two students from the home economics class attend the meeting.

President Clifton reported that a special meeting will be called for March 9th at 7:30 p. m. to discuss the budget for the coming year.

Confirm Sale of Farm To Starkey Interests

Confirmation has been made by W. Paul Starkey, Jr., of the purchase by the Starkey Farm, Falls township, of the Charles Rowe farm on the Newtown road, above Yardley.

Starkey said he was not yet able to discuss his company's future plans for farming operations there. The Rowe purchase was reported, however, to be first of several in the Yardley-Newtown-Doylstown area to replace loss of 2,000 acres of farming land, sold for part of the proposed steel mill site below Morrisville.

At the Starkey offices near Morrisville, it was said the Rowe farm has about 200 acres and a house and buildings in good condition. Whether it might become a new home for the Starkey family in addition to use for farming was undetermined, it was said. Homes of both W. Paul Starkey, Jr., and W. Paul Starkey, Sr., were sold.

The Starkey interests disposed of holdings below Morrisville to the United States Steel Corporation, which may erect a large steel mill down the Delaware River from Morrisville.

"Community Planning" Is Subject For Kiwanians

PENNDDEL, Mar. 3.—"Community Planning for Lower Bucks County" was the topic of an interesting talk by John J. Mladjen at the meeting of Kiwanis Club of Bucks County Lincoln Highway held Tuesday evening at the Royal Gardens, Bensalem township. President W. S. Erwin presided at the meeting which was arranged by John A. A. Crowley of the public and business affairs committee.

Mr. Mladjen, executive director of the Citizens' Council on City Planning of Philadelphia, but whose home is in Langhorne, stressed the need for intelligent planning in lower Bucks county, regardless of political subdivisions. He showed clearly that politics and good planning very seldom co-operate, and advised on the need for a Lower Bucks Planning Council and also a planning board set up by the county commissioners. He emphasized his talk with numerous maps and charts showing their work in Philadelphia.

The meeting concluded with a U. S. Steel film, "An Orchid to Mr. Jordan," which told the story of stainless steel as developed by the U. S. Steel Corp. A board meeting followed.

Next week is Kiwanis Magazine week and Tuesday's meeting will be in charge of Past-President H. A. Waldkoening. The subject will be "The Kiwanis Magazine." Several members will discuss important articles in the magazine and a history of the magazine will be presented.

Dixons Will Observe Their 60th Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. ALEXANDER DIXON, SR.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Dixon, Chicago, Ill., respectively, present former residents of Bucks county.

will mark 60 years of marriage on Monday. With the culmination of a romance which began in church work, the couple were married on March 6, 1890, in the parsonage of Neshaminy Methodist Church, Hulmeville, by the bride's father, the Rev. L. M. Hobbs, who was pastor of Hulmeville and Bensalem Methodist Churches at that time.

Two of the members of their wedding party are living. They are Mrs. Chester Sutton, of Woodside, and Mrs. John H. Kidney, of Emille. The Dixons' family of 13 children (eight boys and five girls) of whom nine survive, has grown with the addition of 12 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. The couple will be honored at a dinner party for the immediate family at Becker Farms Inn, Bensalem township, tomorrow, with all of the children except the eldest and youngest, now living in California and with their families. Three of their children reside in Bristol. They are Mrs. Walter Appleton, 157 Otter street; Alexander, Jr., 1923 Radcliffe street; and Samuel T., 460 Mill street. Two years after their marriage the Dixons settled on the Trevoise Farm, near Oakford where they carried on a successful farming business. The house on this tract is believed to be the first stone building constructed in Pennsylvania, dating back to 1686. It was used at one time as the Bucks County court house and one of the other farm buildings was used as a jail. In 1907 the Dixons became associated with former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy in the operation of the Walnut Grove farm, Bristol township. This partnership lasted until 1927, when they decided to retire and live in Frankford. In 1941 they moved to Mayfair, Phila., to take up residence with their daughter, Mrs. Charlotte Greiner, at 3194 Guilford street, a graduate of Bristol high school.

Each year Mr. Dixon manages to spade a small vegetable patch and care for it as well as his lawn. His formula for long life and compatibility is simply "plain living." Mrs. Dixon, petite and spry, belieing her years, is in perfect accord with this. Their advice to young couples is simply to "put your shoulders to the wheel and make up your minds it is going to go." They liken life to a stream "in which there are inevitably some ripples, but if you keep your tempers (at least don't both get angry at the same time, you'll have nothing to worry about."

Mrs. Dixon is a charter member of Morning Star Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, Bristol, and Mr. Dixon is a member of Bristol Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons.

EDGELY

Mrs. Peter Ceroni, Phila., is spending several weeks with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pittman, while Mrs. Pittman is recuperating following an operation in a Phila. hospital.

Sgt. and Mrs. Eugene Eltner and son Eugene, Jr., Ft. Dix, N. J., week-ended with Mrs. Eltner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dewsnap.

Mr. and Mrs. William Walker visited in Phila., on Sunday, where they were the guests of Mr. Walker's sister, Mrs. Ann Savage.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Barthberger, Phila., were Sunday guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Van Dongen.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ainsworth and daughter Gail, Bristol, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Ainsworth's parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kerr. Mrs. Kerr having been ill this past week, is improving.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian DeWilde were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Baker, and Robert Baker, Passaic, N. J. Other guests were Mrs. Leonard Baker and son Richard and Mr. and Mrs. August Swartz, Teaneck, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Trask entertained on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fox and Mrs. Anna Fox, Phila.

panels of yellow poplar are painted with a dove-gray satin finish, blending in with painted wall surfaces. This same finish is also used on the interior cabinet work throughout the rest of the building, except in the directors' room and executive offices on the main floor. There the color of wood and carpeting selected is a soft green so typical of the early 18th century period.

Furniture used in first floor offices was also selected to blend and harmonize with the architectural fabric of the building, the design of each piece being especially chosen with great care to properly represent the historic spirit of this area.

In the lobby there are two stand-up check desks accommodating eight customers and a two-place, sit-down desk flanked on each side by low back Windsor settees, and at the ends by two leather-covered, high-back side chairs of the 17th century design. (Orange Stuart side chairs with Flemish feet.) According to tradition the original of these chairs were presented by William Penn to the first court house of Bucks County when it was located at the "Falls." They were used in the grand jury room. It is presumed they remained with county property and were removed to Bristol in 1795, at which time Bristol was the seat of the county government. In 1726 these chairs were removed to Newtown where they saw service in the county building throughout the Colonial and Revolutionary periods. In 1813 when the county seat of justice was removed to Doylestown these chairs became the property of the Newtown Library, which has been in possession of them ever since. Permission to reproduce these historic treasures was generously given by the library.

Local walnut and various other cabinet woods were used in the hand construction of these reproductions of outstanding Eighteenth Century furniture, typical of the Delaware valley area.

The money and safe deposit vault has two doors with a combined weight of over 39 tons. The vault is of "Steelcrete," which consists of heavy re-inforced steel placed on 2½" centers with poured concrete. The four walls and the top and bottom of the vault are constructed in this manner, affording the maximum protection for money and safe-deposit box storage. In addition there is a fire-proof vault for protection of bookkeeping and other records. In the basement is another large vault for the bank's records, and space to store customer's valuables too large for safe deposit boxes.

The basement is accessible from the river-side of the building. Six sheltered parking spaces have been provided for customers' use, with access to the public lobby by an inside stairway.

Emergency exits have also been supplied on the Market street side, and on the opposite side of the structure.

Cooper, of Langhorne, to appear at the next session of juvenile court. State Police said that the youthful trio would take the cars early in the evening, go for a ride and abandon the cars. None of the cars were damaged, the owners report.

"Easier housekeeping for the housewives" was the subject of an interesting talk, before the Kiwanis Club of Doylestown.

Program Chairman Louis Pearlman admitted that the program was a bit unique for a man's service club, but that he was certain the husbands would enjoy it even though they didn't relate details to their wives.

The speaker, John Unger, of Ephrata, representing one of the largest manufacturers of electric washing machines in America, actually demonstrated how the average housewife today, equipped with modern kitchen and household accessories, can do in one day what it would take ten servants to do some years ago.

That the standard of living in America surpasses anything anywhere else in the world, was demonstrated by the speaker in his talk and in a film story.

The great power of advertising was also emphasized, especially newspaper advertising.

The speaker said that a recent newspaper advertisement published in Philadelphia and locally sold 275 washers in a period of two hours.

at one time, denied that he took part in the hold-up. Mitchell Kayser, the other defendant, refused to take the witness stand.

Michael Peter Shelly, Phila. garageman, testified that Kayser's car was being repaired in December, 1948, when it was alleged to have been used to go up to Trevoise. Lockrey, the father of three children, testified that he first knew of the hold-up when he read about it in the newspapers.

Bezanis, who was arrested April 16, 1949, admitted that he was riding in a car which was being chased by the police, but insisted that he fell out and didn't jump while it was going 70 miles an hour in Philadelphia.

"All I got was a sprained ankle, but the back of my coat and pants were burned out," said Bezanis, who denied that police found a revolver at the scene where he fell from the car.

Current Books, Plays Discussed by Frescoln

LANGHORNE, Mar. 3 — "Current Books and Plays" was the subject upon which Rees Frescoln, teacher of English at George School, Newtown, addressed members of Sorosis in the Langhorne library, yesterday afternoon. He was introduced by Mrs. Edwin Laning.

Mr. Frescoln told what he considers makes good books, and gave tips on how to select such. He also told what makes the classics.

Brief reviews of several books, with information on their good qualities, included: "The Plum Tree" and "The Bible and the Common Reader" by Chase; "The Twelve Seasons" (Krutch); "The Willow Cabin" (Frankau); "Mary" (Asch); "Here is New York" (White); "John Goffe's Mill".

Plays discussed included "The Death of a Salesman," "The Member of the Wedding," "Street Car Named Desire" and "The Glass Menagerie."

One thought expressed by Mr. Frescoln was that plays today reflect the times—psychology and international affairs being among the points stressed in some.

Mrs. Edward Pickering, 3d, the presiding officer, read Longfellow's "Psalm of Life" in tribute to the memory of three deceased members, namely Mrs. William Newbold, Mrs. Harry Spencer and Mrs. William Parry.

said to be in this area—at Neshaminy Farms and Reddin Farm, Newtown. Dr. E. C. Deubler, Newtown, is claimed to be one of the outstanding authorities on Ayrshire cattle. He and Michael Rapuano, the latter of Reddin Farm, are directors of the Ayrshire Breeders' Association.

Should the sale be consummated it is announced that an addition, 26x36 feet, will be built to the main house, the same style of architecture being carried out. The buildings will be used for business offices only, it is said. No other changes in the property are planned, it is stated.

The association publishes a monthly magazine for cattle breeders.

It is anticipated also that should the association locate here a large number of new families will move to the community.

Pennsbury Teachers To Hear Raymond Webster

FALLSINGTON, Mar. 3 — Members of Pennsbury Teachers Ass'n will gather in the Makefield school auditorium at four o'clock on Monday.

Raymond C. Webster, assistant executive secretary of public relations of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association, will be the guest speaker. His topic will be "What the Teachers Should Get From and Give a Teachers' Association."

Miss A. Marie Kelly is chairman of the program committee, assisted by Mrs. Janet Sturrock, Paul Sterling, Arthur Krespack, Mrs. Janine Mackensen, Miss Ruth Roessle, Mrs. Dorothy Lummis and Miss Florence Kershner.

Founders Day Explained By Mrs. Alvin Pratt

After a casserole dinner served in Laurel Bend school last evening to members of Laurel Bend Parent-Teacher Association, Charles Quigley, president, explained the mock birthday cake which was for donations for the National P. T. A. He then introduced Mrs. Alvin Pratt, Morrisville, president of Bucks County Council of P. T. A., speaker of the evening.

Mrs. Pratt explained Founder's Day, how the P. T. A. began and why, and she touched on "various things that we take for granted that were started by the P.T.A." She said: "In 1910, February was set aside as Founder's Day anniversary, in honor of Mrs. Barni and Mrs. Herst, who formed a group of mothers interested in children and who believed that mothers should be educated in the care of children. It soon came to include the fathers."

"At the second national convention held in 1909 it was decided to start classes in the study of children in colleges."

Some of the things which P.T.A. started were mentioned by Mrs. Pratt, as follows: "Chicago organized the first juvenile court; in Pennsylvania P.T.A. paid half of the salary for the first probation officer, in the interest of children; in 1899 the first P. T. A. magazine was issued; first steps were made in the health and child labor law by P. T. A.; tried to improve the teachers' salaries and living conditions; in the early 1900's P.T.A. had censorship of the 'movies.'" She continued "The P.T.A. is the largest organization in the world interested in the welfare of children."

She asked those present to look back on the ideals held by Mrs. Barni and Mrs. Herst, the founders, and to the work that they have accomplished. "We must realize that the P.T.A. must go on in their work."

A "movie" of Ohio State band and a travogue were shown by Mrs. Samuel Gratz.

Nelson Simon reported on the table which Mrs. Lloyd Bucher, a teacher, had given them for the projector. It was announced that Mrs. Dorothy McCollom will be the speaker in March. The refreshment committee chosen for the next meeting include: Mrs. Barni, Mr. Simon and Melvin Houser. Nomination committee appointed is: Mrs. Walter Prickett, chairman; Mrs. Bucher, and Jacob Haeblerle. Mrs. Fred Douglass reported on the meeting of the finance committee chairmen of the P. T. A. in Bucks County held at Pennnd.

The attendance banner went to James Foley's room. E. W. Kelly won the door prize.

The program chairman was Mrs. Simon. She and the following served on the dinner committee: Mrs. Joseph Vattimo, Mrs. Jacob Haeblerle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Quigley, Mrs. Schell, Mrs. Fred Schutze, Mrs. Clara MacKelvey, Mrs. Fred Douglass.

services performed in periods of disaster, as well as their blood service. In times of disaster, Menna pointed out, the Red Cross not only gives first aid, but also provides housing and rehabilitation services.

Other services performed by Red Cross were listed as follows: entertainment, instruction and supply for servicemen; home service for veterans and their dependents; social welfare work; canteen service; arts and skills services for veterans.

"The Red Cross was able to help thousands in need; victims of disaster, sick or injured needing blood; servicemen, veterans and their dependents; protect through free instruction in first aid, water safety, accident prevention and home nursing," the speaker said.

At the conclusion of his talk Menna answered questions for members. President William Begley was in charge of the meeting.

Wide Variety of Performers To Be at Sportsmen's Show

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 3—A wide variety of performers will be featured on the twice-daily entertainment program at the 11th annual Philadelphia Motor Boat and Sportsmen's Show, Convention Hall, March 3 through 11, according to Clinton W. Smullen, director of the show.

Entertainment will begin at three p. m. and eight p. m. each day, with the exception of Sunday, March 5, when the entire show is closed.

Governor Duff and the state and city officials will help to open the show. Master of ceremonies will be Chief Needahbeh, ex-anthropology lecturer, and a full-blooded Penobscot Indian. Louis Peters, a Miomac Indian, will demonstrate moose-calls, using only his cupped hands, scolding the mechanical aids usually employed. Smullen said. Dick Miller will demonstrate flycasting techniques, and Art Nuss will show his champion baitcasting form.

Another feature attraction is Billy Hughes and his talking crow, Blackie. Jim Lynch will star in the archery division, demonstrating trick, skill and target shots that have made him a famous hunter and performer. Guides from Nova Scotia, Maine and New Hampshire will prove their skill in log rolling, canoe-tilting, canoe-paddling, and a "human tuna" contest, a tug-of-war between an angler and a paddler, Smullen announced.

Lou Pagliaro and Hamilton Cannell will stage an exhibition table tennis game, and display various trick shots. Orin Benson will work his retrieving and pointing dogs, using live game. Russ Dotson and his Diving Collegians will execute trick and fancy diving in the pool. Sharkey, the nationally famous performing seal, will wind up the show.

Program for W. C. T. U. Is In Charge of Mrs. Updike

A meeting of the Bristol Women's Christian Temperance Union was held Tuesday evening at the home of the Misses Mary and Jane Rogers, Jefferson avenue, with Miss Verna Miller assisting as hostess.

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. William E. Hakes, president. A donation was voted to the annual fund drive of the American Red Cross.

The program was in charge of Mrs. S. M. Updike, the topic being:

(1) "Frances Willard, in commemoration of her birthday;" and (2) "Narcotics." An interesting paper was presented showing "the uselessness, and wastefulness of the cigarette habit."

A social time was enjoyed.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. John L. Nugent Pastor, St. Charles Borromeo R. C. Church Cornwells Heights

"Honor thy father and thy mother."

A Prayer by Children for Their Parents

Dearest Lord, fill our parents with Thy choicest blessings; enrich their souls with Thy holy grace; grant that they may faithfully and constantly guard that likeness to Thy mystic marriage with Thy Church, which Thou didst imprint upon them on the day of their nuptials. Fill them with the spirit of holy fear, which is the beginning of wisdom, and continually move them to impart the same to their children; in such wise may they ever walk in the way of Thy commandments; and may their children be their joy in this earthly exile and their crown of glory in their home in heaven. Amen.

CITY SITES

CHICAGO, — (INS) — Industrialists in increasing numbers are looking to the smaller outlying cities as locations for their new plants. According to the American Society of Planning officials this was the conclusion of the Detroit regional planning commission after a study of the movement of manufacturing establishments within the metropolitan area between 1937 and 1949, and the factors influencing location of plants.

BRISTOL MATMEN TO MEET TRENTON CATHOLIC HERE

Improving as the season progresses, the Bristol High wrestlers will meet the Trenton Catholic High team tonight in the high school "gym" at 7:30 o'clock.

The Bristol matmen have engaged in three matches thus far this season, twice meeting the George School Junior Varsity, and Lower Merion High. Coach Harold Ferguson's boys also have had several practice meets.

Eleven matches are scheduled for tonight and the fans of this locality who like the grunt and groan game are assured of a fine night's entertainment.

Coach Ferguson expects his minions to give a fine account of themselves against the Jersey grapplers, despite the latter's experience in the wrestling line.

The local mentor has not selected the boys who will tangle with the Jersey boys but has the pick of the following: Tom Pearson, Dominick Petrino, Dave Lewis, Bob Gillies, Joe DeFranco, Leonard Piro, Bob Lewis, Jack Laidacker, William Hoss, Richard Killian, George Capriotti, Carl Pollard, Dick Schmidt, LeRoy Greenlee, Ted Schroot, Norman Sorenson, and William Gratz.

Lower Merion was originally scheduled to appear here tonight but the coach of the LM school had a refereeing engagement elsewhere and cancelled the bouts. Harry McClist, athletic director of Bristol High, secured the TC grapplers to come here with Lower Merion coming at a later date.

Following the eleven wrestling bouts, dancing will take place with recorded music.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM TO KEEP IN TRIM BY PLAYING ALUMNI

Not wishing to have his Warriors remain idle until the opening PIAA playoff game next week, Coach Jerry Bloom has arranged a game with the Alumni team. This game will be played Monday night on the high school floor. A preliminary game is also being arranged.

The Alumni team players will be composed mostly of the players of the Profs team of the Bristol Basketball League. These players are: Johnny Pindar, Val Bilecki, "Ham" Konefal, Alan Burton, Joe Natale, and Buck Proff. Other players of the league will also be added to the squad. The team will be directed by "Dick" Brown, manager of the Profs team.

The Alumni team will use a pressing defense during the game, the same that is used by the West Chester five which is Bristol's foe in the first playoff tilt.

Convict Butcher On Charge of Assault

brought by his wife, Mrs. Millicent Wendig, to charges.

The jury gazed upon the couple for the purpose of showing the superior size of the Hathoro butcher, compared with the stature of his wife, who prosecuted him on a charge of assault and battery, alleged to have been committed last May 31. The Wendigs have been married 3 1/2 years.

Mrs. Wendig, 34, who now lives with her mother, Mrs. Elsie David, in Phila., testified that she and her husband had lived at 608 York rd., Hathoro, last Memorial Day, she testified, she and her husband went to the home of the Harry E. Ehrhart, near Churchville, for a "night cap," after being at another party previously at the home of the senior William F. Wendig.

The prosecutrix testified that she saw her husband with his "arms around Mrs. Ehrhart." One thing "lead to another," she said, and the climax was reached when her husband gave her "a terrific beating" and she was thrown out of the house.

"It has been my husband's custom to beat me at times," Mrs. Wendig, 34, declared. She admitted that she hit her husband on the night in question, but only in self-defense.

"I hated to give up my marriage. I loved my husband," the prosecutrix sobbed between tears.

"That night the Ehrharts made fun of my appearance," she continued. "My mother-in-law said, 'Why you are a Jew,' and I was embarrassed. Three people, including my husband, jumped on me, and beat me terribly. Then I was put out of the house. On the way home my husband was driving about 30 miles an hour and he tried to push me out of the car. He kept saying, 'I hate you, I'm through with you; I'm in love with someone else'."

Later she was confined to bed four days at home and later at her mother's house in Philadelphia for two or three weeks, it was stated.

The prosecutrix admitted under cross-examination that she was able to go to Philadelphia stores during her illness and make numerous purchases.

Photographer Milton Rutherford, of Doylestown, testified that he took photographs of Mrs. Wendig's injuries at the request of her attorney on May 31.

George Kleppinger, of Adams ave., Lacey Park, testified that he heard screams outside about four in the morning, got up and dressed, went outside and found Mrs. Wendig. He stated that he also saw the defendant and that he said to him, "That's my wife," and then started to run down the road. Kleppinger said he picked up a police officer and took the woman to the Hathoro police station.

"He's trying to kill me," Mrs. Wendig complained to me on the way to the police station. The witness said that Mrs. Wendig's face looked swollen.

Dr. Frank Clark, of Hathoro, testified that he treated Mrs. Wendig upon her return from the hospital, the next day, and found quite severe eye bruises, and bruises of the hips, neck, arms, legs, back, and the right side of the abdomen.

Policeman Kurt Zintner, of Hathoro, the arresting officer, said that when he arrested Wendig he said: "She got all that was coming to her," and then added, "I guess they will throw the book at me now."

Mr. Wendig had scratches on his face and his shirt was ripped, the policeman testified.

The previous witness was corroborated by Officer Pfeiffer, of the Warminster police, and by Sgt. Walter Dudgeon, of the Hathoro police.

Mrs. Elsie David, mother of the prosecutrix described her daughter's condition after the fight, as "almost unbelievable." "Her nose was all over her face," she said.

Other witnesses for the Commonwealth included Mrs. Elsie Frey, Chestnut Hill, a cousin of the prosecutrix; George W. Frey, her husband; John Frey, Jr., Richboro. All testified to Mrs. Wendig's injuries.

The defense position is that Mrs. Wendig brought on her injuries by her own conduct, and that the husband never struck her, unless it was in self defense.

The defendant, again, 32, told the jury that "my wife bruises very easily and is easily aroused to anger." He denied that he had his arms around Mrs. Ehrhart "in the car going home," he said, "my wife kept scratching me and beating me so much that I stopped the car and started walking to Hathoro."

"My wife gets bruised often from walking into the furniture, and I believe that some of her injuries were self inflicted."

If Junior Cries At School It Could Be Mother's Fault

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

I RECEIVE many letters of the child under two or three who can't be happy out of his mother's sight. Some such children are much older. Also some letters describe the tot who raises a ruckus by his screams and cries when left by his mother with a group of young children in the Sunday school, nursery school or kindergarten. An occasional mother writes of her child who cries for his mother in the first grade or cries to remain home on a school morning.

Although the child's unhappiness in the group may arise over some unfortunate incident while there, it usually grows out of his never having been weaned emotionally away from his mother, and his total or partial lack of play experience with other children near his age, especially those outside the family. Often this child is taken out of the group and kept home, sometimes on the advice of the physician or child expert.

If the child is taken home after he has so violently resisted being left with the group, the problem of his learning later to be happy with the group can grow much more serious, even become tragically prolonged.

Severe Measures

On the other hand, the suffering of the child left to be hardened in the group may be too great to warrant such severe measures. Besides, the children in the group and their teacher may be greatly upset by this child if he is forced to remain among them. Usually when the mother leaves the child with the teacher or leader of the group this leader is soon able to help the child adapt himself. Yet the most skillful leader might not succeed and might wisely advise the mother to keep the child home for some while.

But whether the group leader or the child expert advises the mother to keep the child home for a while, this leader or expert has a moral and professional obligation to help van the mother to plan and carry through a home program which will prepare the child after some days, weeks or months to rejoin the group happily.

Leave the Child

During this period the mother should find a way to leave her child for a total of a few hours daily with a playmate (other than a brother or sister) of about his age, and later with several such playmates, achieving this at almost any personal or financial sacrifice. The mother should leave this child in the care of a very competent person for very short periods daily at first and for longer ones later, finally spending with her husband a week-end or longer away from him. All such adaptations should, of course, be very gradual.

(Related bulletins are: "Tot Learning To Be Sociable," "Your Child and His Playmates," and "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School," to be had in a stamped envelope sent me in care of this paper.)

Before this child reenters the group at Sunday school or school it would be fine if he could spend some time at play with one or several of the group at their homes or his own. Fine, too, if one or two of the group he will reenter would go along with him in the early days of his return.

Let me beg of young mothers with mere infants not to let such problems arise. Help your child gradually learn to be comfortable out of your presence and in the care of another person; also to be happy with playmates. And this may cost you a lot of time and effort. But see what it will mean for the welfare and happiness of your child.

Your Commentator

By Jim Larkin

I seldom recall titles of the movies I have seen, (Especially "B's", viewed in sleepy coma.) But long remembered is the smell of the popcorn machine, which I rate as a stench, not an aroma.

"How pleasant it is to have money," wrote Arthur Hugh Clough. Yes, isn't it? And had you noticed, too, that it's rather handy at times—as can best be judged when you haven't it?

KEN KEENE THE CORNER DRUGGIST

Ken Keene was talking to a farmer friend who was complaining that the government is telling him what crops to sow and how much, and rather bossing him around. Ken said: "You pay wages to a hired man. Do you feel that you can tell him what you expect him to do?" "Why, certainly," replied the farmer.

"Well, then," said Ken, "just remember that the benevolent government is paying subsidies (with your money, by the way) to the farmers, and it therefore claims the right to direct their actions. You have sold some of your freedom of independent thought and action—which never was the American idea. I could sell you some aspirin for your headache—but you can cure it yourself, if you really want to."

DEFINITIONS IN RHYME

To have PRAGMATIC ways I was never ambitious;
It means fussy and meddling, conceited, officious.

All harmful things and practices one always should ESCHEW—
To abstain from—keep clear of. (A good rule for me and you).

A word is not a crystal, transparent and unchanged; it is the skin of a living thought and may vary greatly in color and content according to the circumstances in which it is used.

Oliver Wendell Holmes

I know that you, too, have experienced it. Alone you approach the closed door of a public elevator and naturally push the "up" bell. Then in comes another patron who edges past you and also pushes the bell. So you wonder: does he think me too dumb to have done the obvious—or that his bell-pushing is more likely to get results?

Every young person around a farm should recognize the productive possibilities of farm machinery. But he should also be taught the dangers of such equipment if not handled properly.

Her smile, I thought for me intended,
Quite flattered me that it should find me;
But then I noticed it extended
To a much younger chap behind me.

I have mentioned it before, but reports of accidents show that it can stand repeating. Keep inflammable products in plainly marked containers and never get them mixed in storage or in use.

"Exposed by centuries of erosion on an Alaskan mountain top, Dr. So-lecki made the lucky find of some curious stone implements". (From article in a national magazine.) We would suppose that after such long exposure the doctor would have preferred to find food, clothing and shelter. Or maybe a better grammarian should have written the article.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO PA. FARMERS

By Al Spivak

INS Penna. Farm Editor
HARRISBURG, Mar. 3 — Re-bellion in the ranks of Pennsylvania potato growers against federal price supports adds fuel to an already sizzling conflict on the issue among government agencies and Keystone State farmers.

The Pennsylvania cooperative potato growers association expressed unanimous opposition to marketing agreements hinging on price supports and regulation of production.

The cooperative's members voted to continue selling potatoes direct to chain stores and other distributing points to avoid "dumping" and keep Pennsylvania spuds on the consumer market.

Federal sources meanwhile condemn such an attitude because they claim non-participating farmers reap the benefits of prices gained by supports without contributing to their share of the bargain as participating farmers do.

Furthermore, spokesmen of the Pennsylvania marketing and production committee declare, orders have gone out to growers participating in price supports that there be no "dumping."

Surplus spuds totaling 300,000 bushels therefore are being consigned to welfare agencies, when suitable for human consumption, or to livestock when unfit for humans.

Potato growers general manager Steve Westrick pointed out that the government obtained only four per cent of the Pennsylvania crop during 1949, since only 356 of the Commonwealth's 10,000 potato growers signed government agreements.

In order that the potato crop of the rest of the state's farmers not be dumped, Westrick urged growers to continue selling direct to distributors at a lower margin of profit than could be gained through federal agreements.

During 1949, a total of 19,158,000 bushels of potatoes were produced in Pennsylvania, of which the co-operatives 1,430 members grew 10,000,000.

The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture has disclosed that the state's growers plan reducing this year's potato acreage two per cent under 1949. A total of 5,050,000 bushels of the 1949 crop still were available for market January 1.

State and federal agencies are cooperating in a campaign to coax the public to increase consumption of eggs — another problem hatched out of price supports but not the cause of as much contention.

"The fact that quality eggs may be bought today for around 40 cents a dozen less than last September is a fair indication of the bargain price now available," said agriculture secretary Miles Horst.

The state production and marketing committee points out that the annual per capita consumption of eggs has materially increased since the war, but would like each consumer to eat an additional nine eggs in 1950.

Poultrymen contend that with grain prices supported at 90 per cent of parity, poultry products must be similarly supported if the industry is to survive.

The PMC, seeking to save the U. S. Treasury the expense of another price support program on eggs, hopes to bolster consumption in Pennsylvania to the extent that the public will totally absorb the supply and thus help in a nationwide drive to excuse the federal government from purchasing vast quantities for drying and storage.

THE ADAPTABLE CAPE COD TYPE

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

WE'LL own a place like this, someday.

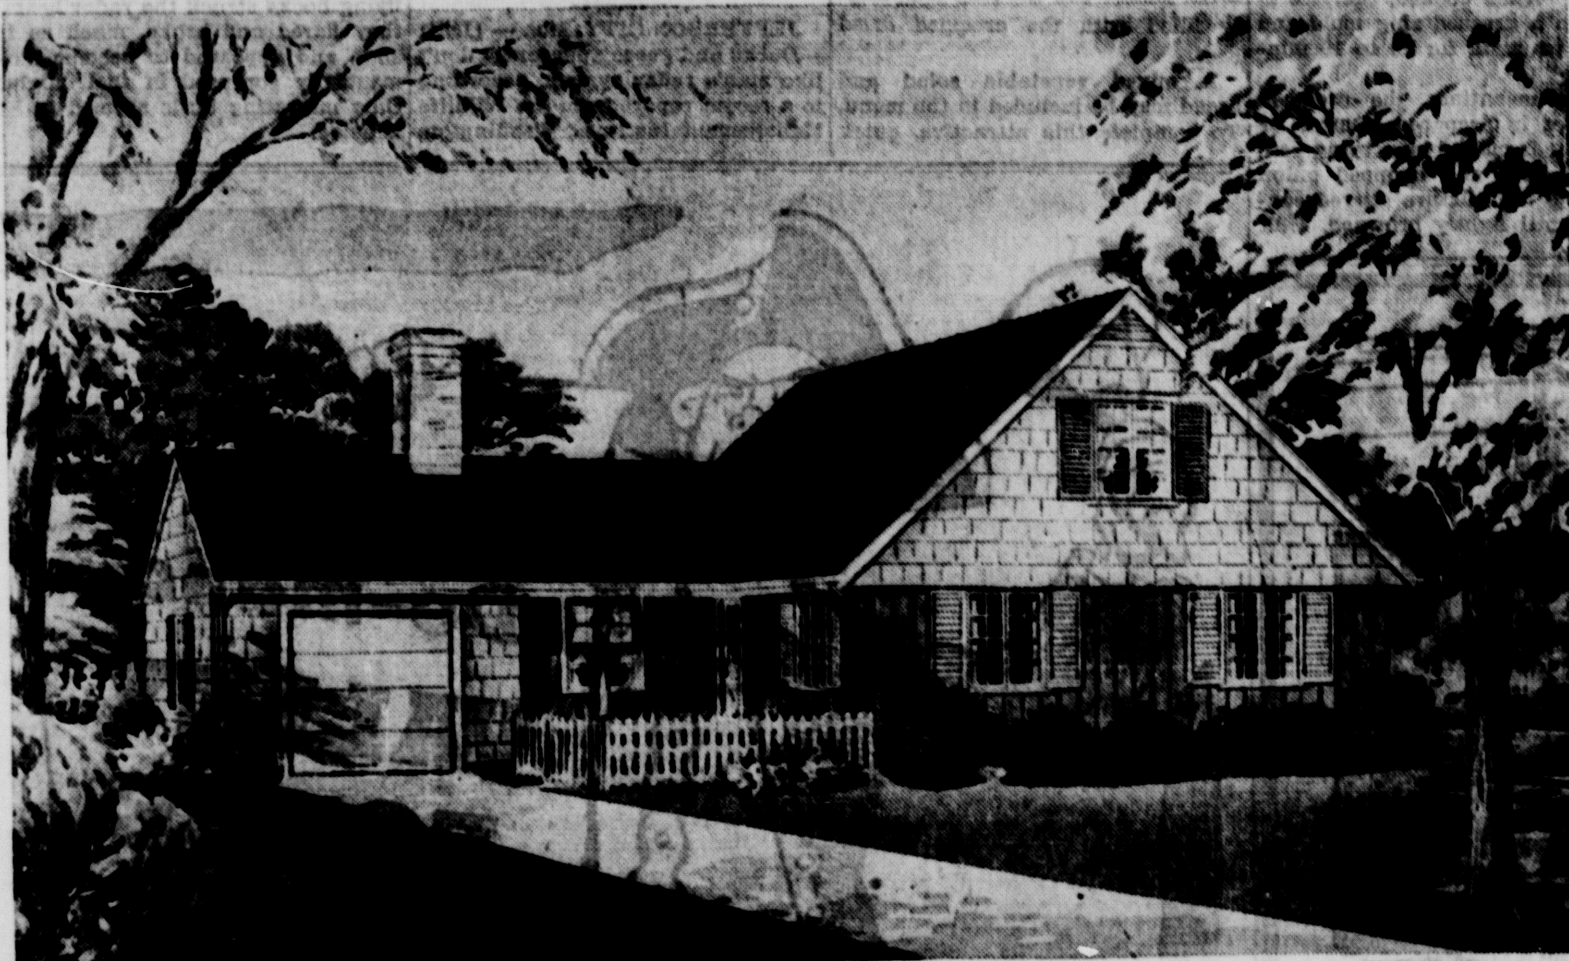

That's the kind of remark that's sure to be made about this dream cottage, Cape Cod style, because it seems so ideally suited to the needs of a young couple just starting out. It has a pleasing, rambling appearance, yet it maintains many of the charming characteristics that have made the Cape Cod style a long-time favorite.

Here's a cottage designed to grow with a family. Mr. and Mrs. Newlywed will find that the first floor is in itself a complete home. There are two bedrooms—one might be used for guests or as a study. The spacious living room has two attractive features. A large fireplace, from time immemorial a symbol of welcome, blazes a cheery hello that adds a warm note of hospitality.

The "garden view," which is becoming more and more popular, is also planned for in the living room. A large picture window, a door and casement windows provide a view and accessibility to a generous porch at the rear. This liberal use of glass creates a bright, healthful atmosphere that lets in a flood of natural outdoor light and brightens the interior.

The kitchen lay-out offers compactness and efficiency. Range, cabinets, sink and refrigerator are arranged in the popular "U" pattern. Space is also provided for a dining nook.

The attached garage can be entered through a porch door

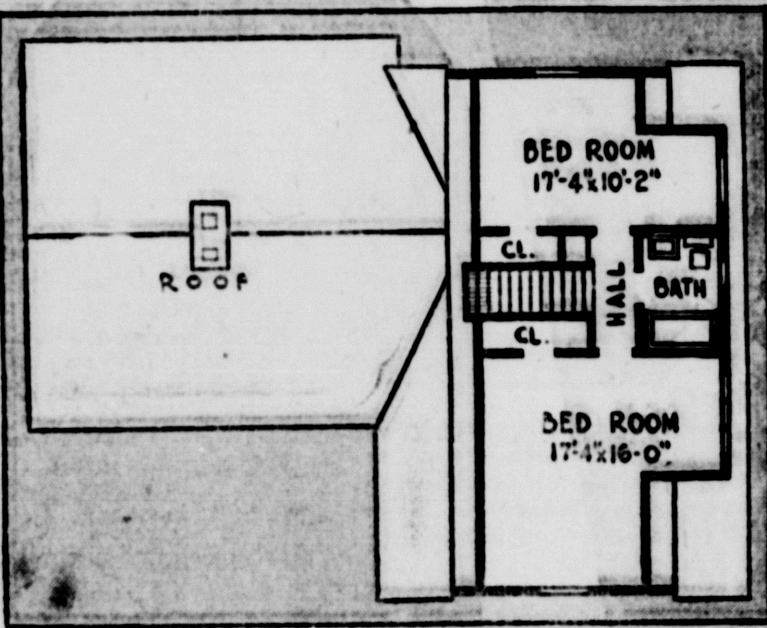

A HOUSE that has all the charming characteristics of a Cape Cod story need not be finished at once. The first floor is in itself a complete house designed to meet the needs of a small family.

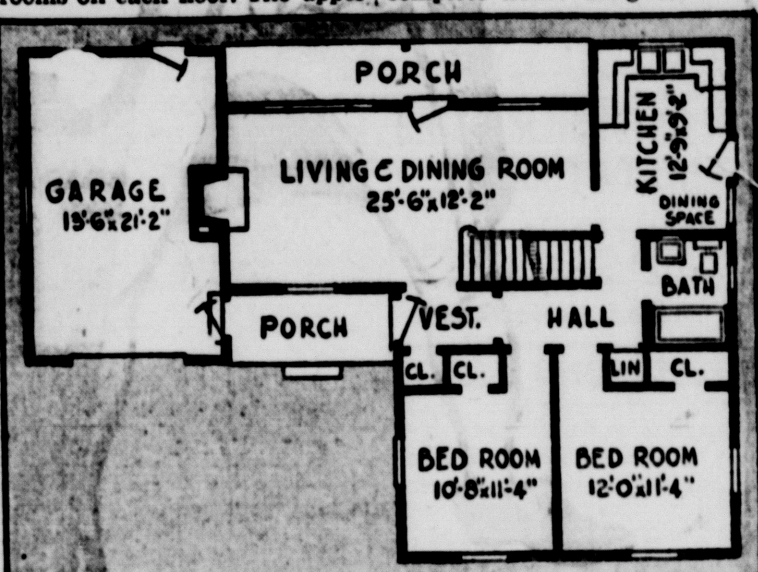

or through a door which opens on the garden area.

The upstairs rooms need not be completed immediately. When time and budget permit, plans provide for two bedrooms and a bath. The rooms, generously scaled, have large closets.

Plans for these houses are available at moderate cost. For information as to where they may be obtained, send your query to this newspaper, accompanied by stamped, addressed envelope.

A SECOND STORY JOB calls for finishing off two bedrooms and adjoining bath. Each bedroom has two windows and a closet.

THE GARDEN VIEW, so popular these days, is visible through a picture window and door and casement windows in the living room.

and City Hall Canteen for servicemen, Booth Memorial Hospital, 5415 Lansdowne avenue, for the care of the unwed mother, 8th and Vine street, center for homeless men, a 24 hour a day emergency program and many other services vital to the welfare of the community at large.

Catching Colds Difficult; It Says So Right Here

By Fred Smith
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)
SALISBURY, England, Mar. 3—Americans who get the "sniffles" whenever they put their heads out of doors will no doubt be amazed to hear that it is very difficult to catch a cold.

But it's true, as human guinea pigs at the Common Cold Research Unit at Harvard Hospital, Salisbury, will confirm.

To observe the cold in its very early stages scientists, who are delving into causes of the common cold, had volunteers take a hot bath and then stand undried and without clothes in a draughty passageway. Scorning half measures, these martyrs also wore wet socks for the rest of the day. Result—no colds.

Undaunted another group of volunteers took a cross country run in the rain, returned chilled and miserable to find the heating turned off. Result—still no colds.

Since the Common Cold Research Unit began work in 1946 more than 1,500 volunteers—half of them women—have spent 10 days at the unit in an attempt to catch a cold.

Their acts of "sacrifice" have not been in vain for, reviewing the hospital's three-year probe into the common cold, scientists found that: Chilling by itself does not produce a cold.

Cold virus is present in the nose for 24 hours before any symptoms are shown. Victims may be infectious at this stage. The virus is still present a week after infection.

Contact in a room with cold sufferers leads to transmission of infection to only a small number of those people exposed. In one experiment, 19 people were exposed to infection but only one caught a cold.

The minute cold virus has yet to be seen but scientists at the Unit

APPEALS FOR MORE BLOOD DONORS

READING A BIBLE to her son Tommy, 7, Mrs. Jennie Coletta is shown in her Landsdale, Pa., home as she prayed that new blood donors would come to her aid. For 14 years she has been kept alive by transfusions. Now another baby is due in April and physicians say transfusions must be given once a week, instead of once a month as before. (International) have a good idea of its size by passing it through filters.

More human guinea pigs are needed at the Unit as scientists have not yet managed to grow the virus in eggs for detailed laboratory research.

Dr. C. H. Andrews, who is in charge of scientific investigations, declared:

"We are shorter of volunteers than of money."

"We have yet to evolve a laboratory technique that will give results at a good rousing speed."

Sunbeam COFFEEMASTER

It's automatic! You can't miss! The same perfect coffee every time—1 cup to 8. Shuts itself off when coffee is done, then re-sets itself to keep the coffee hot.

No glass bowls to break. It's all gem-like chrome-plate, inside and out. Come in and see it. $32.50

Sunbeam TOASTER

All you do is drop in the bread. Bread lowers itself automatically, which turns on current. When perfectly toasted, current turns off automatically. Toast raises itself silently, without popping or banging. And what toast—every slice alike from first to last, whether moist or dry, thick slices or thin. $22.50

Sunbeam WAFFLE BAKER

Makes 4 delicious, good-sized waffles at one time automatically. No waiting. Set it for light, dark or medium waffles. $24.50

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By JOE ELBERSON

Action at last... after almost a year of discussions and planning the indoor small-bore rifle and pistol range of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association is now ready for use. Credit for completion of the work goes to J. S. Lynn, the Association's president, who packed a kit of tools and went over to the YMCA building, where the range is located, and finished the work. Here's hoping that Bullseye Walker and Dr. S. W. Hoyle (Rifle and Pistol Section leaders) can now break the inertia which has surrounded their section and will schedule some shoots.

Going up... one dollar has been added to the hunting and angling licenses in Oregon. Each will cost the sportsman $4.00 this year. Combination license has been upped from $5.00 to $7.00. This is the first increase since 1921.

Figures... in the recent Game Commission's pheasant stocking, a total of 1180 birds were released in Bucks County.

Meeting... the March meeting of the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs will be held in Doylestown on the 6th, at 8 p. m. Delegates from all member clubs should be in attendance.

Just notes... during the past month game protectors reported seeing mourning doves in widely separated sections of Pennsylvania, and, in an eastern county, seeing a kingfisher and two meadowlarks. Trappers, furbuyers and game protectors agree that in the 1950 muskrat season an exceptionally high percentage of rats taken was males. The ratio commonly reported for the January season was four males to one female. The season was set late this year to conserve the low population of muskrats and to take pelts when they were at their best and would bring the highest price.

Litters of rabbits born early in January have been reported in southern and western Pennsylvania counties.

Communication... from the Newportville Rod & Gun Club comes this memorandum:

"Trap teams tie on $1,000 shoot. With extremely high winds and low temperature, the trap teams headed by G. Detoro and W. Pettitt did some fine shooting but finished up with the scores of 21s out of possible perfect 25s. A re-match of these teams will be shot off Sunday, March 12, at 1 p. m. A Lewis class shoot will be held this Sunday, under the direction of H. Fly. Guns and shells will be available on the grounds."

Competition... the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association will be represented practically every night at the Philadelphia Sportsmen's Show by members of the Association's tournament casting division. Tomorrow night the Bristol team will compete in the preliminaries for the Middle Atlantic Indoor Championship. Next Tuesday William Durr, Kenneth Brandau, James Lavenberg and Homer Hobbs will be entered in the individual events. On Wednesday evening George Ebling, Vito Lavrigata and Arnold North will compete, while next Thursday evening will see three more Bristol casters, Guy Gernet, William Brady and Ollie Hobbs, in action. Hobbs will be defending the title he won last year.

About pheasants... last year the Game Commission distributed approximately 120,000 day-old ringneck chicks to sportsmen's organizations, individuals and farm-game cooperators. About 75%, or 90,000 of these were raised to 12 weeks old. This was the best percentage and total number raised in any year since this program was begun.

This year the Commission plans to have at least 200,000 day-old pheasant chicks available for distribution. In the spring for the first time farmers whose lands are open to public hunting and who have the required brooding equipment and pen space will be assigned birds and will be paid for rearing them as Farm-Game Cooperators have been in the past. The many thousands of pheasants reared under this program represent birds for the coverts of the Commonwealth that could not have been reared at the Commission's game farms.

Big game hunters... last year the bow and arrow hunters had a 45-day season in Wisconsin. A total of 551 deer were brought down by the present-day Robin Hoods. 12,990 residents took out licenses, while 1600 non-residents accounted for another 125 deer.

Here's Solution To Last Minute Dinner Problem

This situation may arise in your home!

It's club day and the homemaker arrives home only a matter of minutes before her hungry family. To meet the situation, Reba Staggs, well-known home economist, suggests a tempting last minute meal of creamed dried beef and curried rice.

In preparing this easy meal, quick cooking rice, which requires only 12 minutes' preparation time, is used. Curry powder is added to the boiling water and the rice prepared following instructions on the package. When cooked, the rice is placed in a greased ring mold and allowed to stand for 10 to 15 minutes.

In the meantime, the creamed dried beef is prepared. Butter or margarine is melted in a frying-pan, shredded beef and chopped onion added and the mixture stirred constantly until lightly browned. Milk is then added, the mixture thickened with flour and allowed to boil for two to three minutes. For attractive serving, the rice is unmolded on a large platter and the ring temptingly filled with the creamed dried beef.

A mixed vegetable salad and bread may be included in the menu. To complete this attractive, quick meal, canned or frozen peaches or fruit compote and crunchy cookies are served.

RADAR FLIGHT

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., — (INS) — Ducks and geese apparently don't like man's radar system, according to a recent report from the Wildlife Management Institute, Washington, D. C., to the Missouri Conservation Commission. Last year portable radar equipment borrowed from the R. C. A. F., was used to help trace the migration of birds. When high-flying flocks struck the radar beam, they flared and broke, much as if shot, and appeared to become momentarily confused in their flight. Only migrating birds seemed to be affected.
